The most important issue now bere the country, and one upon which the residential election may turn, is, nnloubtedly, that of negro sulfrage. This fact may be obsented in some measure by vague declarations of parties, or by oming too sharply defined to be hidden. The elections in the Southern States are turning more or less upon it. We have en it was the issue lu Connectient, and ongratulate the country upon the result. n the Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania elections, we have no doubt it has had its

The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, who does the political preaching for his party, is deeply regretful over the President. In the New York Independent he pours out the pentup sorrows of his soul. He says:

The loyal men of the nation, at the South even more than at the North, re-gard his actions and his speeches with alpressure brought to bear upon him, act-ing on habits of thought and prejudices almost mavoidable under the circum-stances of his Southern birth and breed-

As the Beecher party is for and against these two things be wholly without interest to your readfor these reasons, it would be better to say so plainly and come before the people openly on the issue.

The Radicals say that the Governent ean enforce negro suffrage in the outh. It requires the abolition of slavery, it prescribes who shall vote, it appoints Governors who have only the power the President chooses to grant, and why not require negro suffrage? The position that power is wanting is a mere pretext. If the President has the power to do what he has done, how is it that he has not the power to require negro suf-The Radicals have the logic here plainstitutional. The whole process is unwurrauted and revolutionary. The President can only say that he has usurped power without constitutional authority, and that he will not go a step further, nor require negro suffrage. He desires to be moderate in these revolutionary proceedings. The If negro suffrage is not an issue in Pennsylvania, we should like to know what is. The offices to be chosen are trivial affairs, and scarcely worth the taking. Whether Ger. Harlrauft or Colonel Pavis becomes Auditor General webes little differ. Anditor General makes little difference. They are both excellent men, fought gallantly until the war ended, and have high personal traits of character—Colonel havis being a rather bigoted Democrat, but a good soldier. The purpose of the campaign in Pennsylvania, and everywhere else, as we understand, is to advance the cause of freedom, and preserve the discipline of the Union party for that purpose—to see that the great results of this war are not pleked up and carried off by the rebels and copperheads. The only issue remaining upon which the Union party can concentrate and call out the cut-thusiation of the masses is the very issue of thusiation of the masses is the very issue of Johnson doubts his authority to do what he has done, and is anxions to get out of the region of these doublful powers, or munifestly usurped powers. What he has done, he hopes will be sanctioned by success and the acquiescence of the country, and does not wish to try the experiment of the masses is the very issue of suffrage. These brave men did not admit negro equality, and would not have done it in court. They voted against it for the same reason that others did, because it was wrong in itself. The principle governing was that this was a white man's government and should remain so.

The course of Johnson evidently awakened deep distress in the Radical mind. It Is not only upon this question but upon when the history of the past tive years of

Will you now, when you have returned from the army of the United States, take the position of citizens? When you have returned to the avocations of peace, will you give evidence to the world that the arms are well and connected to every The steamers Nevnda, from Savannah, and Twilight, from Wilmington, have an idea or it is a reality. When you come a comming this question of liberty, you will not be mistaken in a mere idea for reality. It does not consist in ideness, Liberty does not consist in being worthless; liberty does not consist in being worthless; liberty does not consist in doing all things as we please, and there can be no liberty, without law in a government of fireedom and of liberty. There must be aw, and there must be obedience und submission to the law, without regard to red people of Washington who, in large crowds have followed the Frst colored people of the colored people of washington who, in large crowds have followed the Frst colored people of the colored people of washington who, in large crowds have followed the Frst colored people of the colored people of washington who, in large crowds have followed the Frst colored people of washington who, in large crowds have followed the frst colored people of washington who is large to the colored people of washington who is large to the colored people of washington, the colored people of washington, have and Twilight, from Wilnington, have and Twilight, from Wilningto ssion to the law, without regard to ellinission to the law, without regard to lear. This is one of the great blessings of reedom and hence we might ask the puestion and naswer it by stating that iberty means freedom, to work and enliberty means freedom, to work and enjoy the products of your own labor. You will be soon mustered out of the ranks, you are fit and qualified to be free, hence it is for you to establish the great fact that freedom is not a mere idea but it is something that exists in fact. It is not simply the mere privilege to live in Idleness. Liberty does not mean simply to resort to the low saloons and other places of disreputable character; freedom and liberty do not mean that the people ought to live in Idlentionsness, but liberty means simply to be industrious, to be virtuous, imply to be industrious, to be virtuous, to be upright in all our dealings and re-

In New York, on the 9th, cotton advanced to 60c, but declined lo-day to angue. The cause assigned for the advance was news from Liverpool of a sale of 149,000 bales at 241. The advance in the raw material has effected the market for cottun goods. Cotton yarns have advanced to 416042c for No. 500, and we hear of sales of Penn and Anchor sheeting at 55c. We are without optotations for Great Western, but a decided advance may be anticipated.

tations. We note sales 50 kegs lard at 30c.

Financially we notice a slight decline in gold and silver. With this exception, the market is without change or excitement, The following are the quotationa given by our bankers for gold, silver, ancurrent money and Gov —The river at this point of the canal last evening, with 5 feet 10 inches in the canal last evening. The Tribune's Matamoras correspondent, of September 14th, says that on the 12th Gaudalonpe Garcia, who four years ago was in command of the line of the Rio Grande, arrived at Erownsville. He reports that a boar of $50,000,000 has been effected by the line of ted by the Liberal Minister to the United States. He also says that arms and other warlike materials have been bought for the army.

If this be true, the loan will enable the Liberal Government to raise a legion of from 10,000 to 20,000 men, and this it has had in view for some time past. Such a corps would enable it to regain all the country north of Santander river before French could collect a lorce adequate to the rrest its progress.
